

July 8-11 Floorcloth Workshop at Wild Orchard Farm in Deerfield, NH

Your opportunity to make Floorcloths and paint with me back in New England! Located at a beautiful bed and breakfast only 1 ½ hours north of Boston. . We'll paint Thursday, Friday, and Saturday and send everyone off with a Sunday brunch. Paint all day and dine on delicious meals to keep you going! All you have to do is come ready to have fun!

Today's floorcloths are truly art for the floor. Students will be introduced to a variety of decorative painting techniques. You are encouraged to bring design ideas, decorative tools and come prepared to paint while I guide you through the process for a successful finish.

We begin by hemming the canvas and students will be encouraged to create your own floorcloth designs. In addition to construction and painting tips we will also cover design, care and use. You do not need to have painting experience to produce a successful floorcloth.

Basic supplies for floorcloth construction are supplied such as canvas, gesso, clear sealant, paste wax and hemming tools. Students will have multiple surfaces to work on from preprimed canvas to priming their own canvas. Finished size varies but run approximately 2'x3'.

Students should bring brushes, favorite paints in desired colors and any decorative tools to try, old clothes or paint apron, note pad or sketch book, design inspiration, pencil, good eraser, scissors, right angle, ruler, and portable hair dryer.

Wild Orchard Farm located in lovely Deerfield, NH has Six bedrooms (two are shared accommodations) on first come basis. Chef Molly will entice us with delicious meals including lobster on one night! Full menu will be posted later. Please advise me about dietary restrictions.
